

Market conditions, interest rates, and credit tightening can impact your real estate project. SEK knows that in the Affordable Housing arena, projects have layers of additional complexity and that the stakes are even higher when it comes to finding people places to live and helping communities prosper.

Our extensive work with affordable housing developers has provided us familiarity with federal regulations affecting the industry, and our team receives specialized training related specifically to Affordable Housing organizations. Whether you are a low-income housing developer, builder, syndicator, investor, not-for-profit organization, or housing authority, SEK can keep you in compliance so you can focus on developing more affordable housing.

We have over 20 years of experience working with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Rural Development Services, and the Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency. We have also worked extensively with other state tax credit-financing agencies.

We currently perform professional services for over 50 Low-Income Housing Tax Credit Projects and other affordable housing entities in Pennsylvania and Maryland. The size of these projects ranges from 6 units to over 130 units.
